XMAS HELP WANTED A SUCCESS

by Jim Lauber

The student and staff response to this year's Christmas collection can only be described as overwhelming. It is nice to realize, despite the negative thoughts of some prominent people, that to-day's community college students are mostly decent people. On behalf of the many children and adults who were the recipients of your generosity; I thank you.

As I stated in an earlier article: a child with an unexpected gift is a happy child, but one with a warm back and full tummy is a lot more happy. The variety of food and clothing along with the toys that found their way into the boxes helped make many of these children, a lot more happy.

A sum of $84.00 donated to the cause was used to buy a wholesale lot of toys and candy. A special thank-you to Burns Caterers of Kensington Campus. Your substantial cheque was much appreciated. "Versa Foods" box of chocolate bars was helpful in topping off a completely successful drive. The behind the scenes people should also be mentioned. Much of the smooth operation was made possible through the kind co-operation of departments such as, transportation, SAC people, Mr. Nixon's Stores area at Teraulay and last but not certainly not least, the top administration, people and their efficient secretaries who handled the inter-campus communications. It was an all George Brown, effort--again, MANY THANKS.

The U. S. Air Force is being quiet about its "commando vault" bomb which it uses two or three times a week in Vietnam. A senior Seventh Air Force officer has been quoted as saying: "It's such a devastating weapon we hate to give it much publicity." The bomb "provides a consecutive blast surpassed only by that of a nuclear bomb," and creates a lethal zone covering 750 acres in which everything, trees, wildlife and any humans who might be there, is killed. Since its use was begun early in 1970, it can be estimated 150 of these bombs have been dropped devastating in excess of 115,000 acres.

On the other side of the world, tens of thousands of birds are returning to the banks of the Thames River in England and fish are re-appearing in the waters of the docks of London. All this the result of a thorough anti pollution job. "The whole estuary of the Thames is coming to life again," according to Peter Grant of the London Natural History Society. The Port of London Authority's pollution efforts have made a fantastic difference."

A memo from the Quebec school system read "Please give us a list of all your students not broken down by sex."

Brig. Jackson thanking Jim Lauber of the Globe for G.B.C.'s contribution to the Christmas Help Wanted campaign.

In keeping with the theme, "The City is Our Campus", Mr. Graham Gore, Chairman of the Board of Governors, recently announced that George Brown College will open its permanent downtown campus in the fall of 1973.

The new campus will be within the area bounded by Adelaide and King Streets East, and George and Frederick Streets. At the present time, this entire block is the home of Courts Hallmark Cards Limited.

After an intensive study of various downtown sites, the Board of Governors chose the site at 200 King Street East, partly because of its proximity to street car and subway lines, public off-street parking and the GO train terminal.

Although the new campus area has a total of 350,000 sq. ft., the initial phase will utilize only 280,000 sq. ft. This will allow the campus to expand and use the remaining 70,000 sq. ft. as the student population increases.

The Board of Governors has charged the architects with the responsibility of leaving the exterior brick facade of the existing building intact. The entire interior will be demolished and rebuilt along the modern lines required by a present day educational institution. Because of the long history of the building, certain areas containing historical significance will be left as they are and incorporated into the new interior design.

The present building consists of five stories with an eight story tower at one corner. The college has no plans to increase the height of the building.

The new downtown campus will be in use 18 hours a day all year round and will be completely air conditioned. Students at this campus will be able to enjoy the benefits of the nearby social and cultural centres such as the O'Keefe Centre, The St. Lawrence Hall and The Market. St. James Cathedral and park is only one block west.

In keeping with the training of people for the para-medical trades, the campus will be situated one block from the site of the proposed new St. Michael's Hospital.

In September 1973, the College will move certain divisions to the new site. The Business and Commerce Division and the Graphic Arts Division will be relocated in the new building as well as the Electronic Division, and the English As A Second Language Division. The Academic Division will take up residence here and a special Certified Building Custodian program will also be offered.

The campus will have a staff of approximately 280 and a student population of close to 2300.

The area of the new campus has a history going back to 1802 when the Crown granted the property to a Malcolm Wright. For the next 72 years the land was owned by many people including the Honourable William Campbell of York. Beginning in 1874 William Christie and Alexander Brown started purchasing parts of the block as they became available. By 1898, these men had purchased the area that made up the site of the Christie-Brown Biscuit Company.

In June 1953, the site was purchased by the Wm. E. Cotts Company Limited which later became Cotts-Hallmark Cards.

The George Brown College is presently constructing a new campus just below Cass Loma. With the addition of the new downtown campus, the second phase of the overall Master Plan will be accomplished.

The philosophy of the College developed in the Master Plan, is that there should be no impermeable barrier between the College and the City. While the City is made aware of this campus in its midst, the student shall be encouraged to become part of the city environment in which he will seek employment.

Jim Vipond, Sports Editor, Globe & Mail caught in a pensive mood during talk session, while Miss G. Hamilton, English teacher looks on.

SPORTS EDITOR VISITS CAMPUS

Jim Vipond, well known Sports Editor, Toronto Globe and Mail, was harried by questions as students turned out in full force to participate in a "bull session" on sports and the media, held Dec. 17 at Terauley Campus.

Vivacious Georgina Hamilton, English teacher, DSC lab, was responsible for the invitation extended to Mr. Vipond, a former colleague of Miss Hamilton's.

Sports-minded students took advantage of the opportunity to besiege Mr. Vipond with many questions pertaining to national and international sports.

Such questions as "What do you think of the Mod Sod" (national) to "When will Mr. Brundage, President of the World Olympics Assoc. retire" (international), were answered with verve and joviality, proving once again what a vast and varied amount of knowledge one must possess to hold the very enviable position of Sports Editor for an internationally known and read newspaper.

It is hoped that Mr. Vipond will return again to the college, in the not too distant future.

of the Board said they could not see how the many different areas of drafting could be combined when they did not have too much in common. It was finally agreed that the Material Handling Design, Tool and Die Design, Machine & Product Design and Process/Piping Design have a common first semester, while the Tool Making should not have a common first semester with the drafting courses.

Mr. Danac of the Tool Making Technician Course proposed changes in the program. Two hours a week in Hydraulics and Pneumatics and one hour of Non Traditional Machining in the first year. In the second year Electrical Fundamentals should be added for two hours a week and Non Destructive Testing for 1 hour a week.

The meeting then adjourned after setting a date for the next Advisory Board meeting.

Open Competition To Play

Under the sponsorship of du Maurier Cigarettes, the Banff School of Fine Arts, John Labatt Limited and Sun Tours Ltd., Performing Arts in Canada is pleased to announce its first National Playwriting Contest for Short Plays to celebrate the magazine's 10th anniversary.

Entries may be submitted in two categories:

1. Open Competition.
2. First Plays.

Prizes:

1. Open Competition: First prize $1,000.00 donated by du Maurier
- Second prize $500.00 donated by John Labatt Limited

2. First Plays:

First prize - A Sun-flight Holiday for two in the Bahamas, donated by Sun Tours Ltd.*

Second prize - A free course at the Banff School of Fine Arts, donated by the Banff School of Fine Arts.

Rules: 1. Open Competition. Contestants may enter with short plays (not longer than sixty minutes), written in or after 1970.

2. First Plays. This category is restricted to authors whose plays have not been published or produced before. Unpublished authors may enter the Open Competition if they wish.

3. Plays must be type-written. A title page is requested containing author's name, address and telephone number, title of play, cast of characters, and description of sets.

4. Each contestant must be a resident of Canada.

Plays will be judged by an independent panel of judges consisting of dramatists, artistic directors, critics, educators and producers. The decision of the judges will be final. The judges will have the right to divide prizes.

Manuscripts will remain the properties of the authors. The contest and its results will be publicised on television, radio, in newspapers and magazines.

Winning plays will be published in Performing Arts in Canada Magazine.

Deadline for entries: March 31, 1971.

Causes & Cures for a "POT BELLY"

Common as it may be, a "pot belly" is not a necessary fact of life for the adult man or woman. Those of you suffering from this affliction who have been fighting the "battle of the bulge" and the discomfort of girdles may find this hard to accept. Yet the "pot" can and should go: it is hard to argue that it is attractive or healthy.

Abdominal flab is often a result of a combination of factors. Commonly the pot is caused by overweight. To check this out, with your thumb and forefinger try to grasp the skin and fat just below the navel. If you can pinch more than 3/4 of an inch of fat your problem is in part a heavy accumulation of fat. The reason for that is simply you eat more calories than you burn up. The remedy: reduce food intake or increase the burning of calories by exercising. The best solution is to combine the two. Running, jogging, walking, bicycling, and swimming are the best exercises.

Another common reason for sagging waistlines is weak stomach muscles. This is seldom found in healthy youngsters but, by the mid to late 20's the average adult fails to give the stomach muscles the sufficient physical stresses they should have. The springy elasticity of the stomach muscles starts to sag and very soon resembles a burlap bag filled with potatoes and as a result the waist line becomes ugly and the posture deteriorates. The pelvis drops at the front, rises at the back causing sway back with low back pains if you are interested in doing something about your pot belly and obtaining a set of exercises, note the numbers on the illustrations and contact me: Vincent Drake at 21 Nassau St., phone: 362-3971 ext. 173.
